Would you like to increase the impact of your current corporate gifting strategies? Start with a better gift: that hand-picked, thoughtful present that makes a recipient feel seen and appreciated. Our gift concierges are here to make that happen.

Select a gift assortment (products or gift cards) for your client to receive as a “thank you” or to welcome a new employee. The recipient decides which size and color they want with the click of a button. With GiftNow’s powerful GXM platform, it’s easier than ever to give corporate gifts that count—at scale.

Give gifts that count.

It’s no secret that corporate gifting is an effective way to strengthen business relationships, boost employee morale, and promote your brand—and the more personal the gift, the more effective. Use GiftNow to send personalized gifts that win hearts and minds, in a way generic rewards points or ill-fitting t-shirts simply can’t.

Gift (almost) anything with GiftNow.

Give shoes without knowing the recipient’s size. Give jerseys without knowing their favorite team. Give electronics without knowing their device compatibility—or what they have already. GiftNow’s customization and easy exchange-before-shipping options make almost everything giftable, whether you’re giving to five people or 5,000. And you have access to a suite of products from top-tier brands as well as a broad selection of gift cards. You can also gift personalized corporate swag and branded premium products.

Digital delivery for spur-of-the-moment gifts.

Since digital gifts are delivered immediately via text or email, you now have the power to engage recipients instantly. That means Human Resource leaders can reward employee milestones the day they happen. Salespeople can send prospects a gift minutes after a meeting. Customer service representatives are armed with instant corporate gifting abilities to keep relationships strong. Whenever the moment arises, your team is ready to give gifts to win hearts and minds.
